

Introduction:

Talent being such a key driver in most organizations, the responsibility to get talent cannot be taken lightly at any time. Hence we are introducing Employee Referral Program in our company.

Which is aimed to get good candidates referred by good employees for a good company. A win-win scenario for both the company and its employees.

Conditions to be noted:

Eligibility: All regular employees in a paid status or on an approved leave of absence from Mallow Technologies are eligible to participate.

Referral Bonus: The bonus will be taxable income, not included as compensation for purposes of PF or ESI.

Referral Bonus Process: A referral can only be submitted by one person. (In case more than one employee submits the same candidate, the earliest submission received is the individual to be considered for the referral bonus.)

Eligible Candidate: An eligible candidate is one who is actually interviewed and hired, not just presented for consideration. To be considered an eligible referral, Human Resources must not have any prior resume, application, letter from the candidate, or presentation by an outside search firm dated within the past year.

Method of Payment: The referral bonus will be split into four parts - Once the candidate is hired, a part bonus is given to the referral in the coming month salary and the second part bonus when the candidate has completed 1 year of employment. The third and fourth part bonuses will be given at the end of each consecutive 2nd and 3rd year. Bonuses will be given only if both the referral and the person who referred are present at the time.

Bonus estimate depends on the role of the referral, below is an example

Trainee	15000	3750	3750	3750	3750	15000

Submission of Resume: It is your friend's responsibility to send a mail with his or her resume, with your name as reference to Mallow Technologies for consideration. Or you can forward your friends resume stating as your reference through mail.

Status of Referral: All referrals expire one year from submission date if not hired. You may refer the same person again once the referral expires.

Points For Employees:

- Understand the job requirement thoroughly.

Employees have a responsibility to read the job description fully and completely to ensure they have a good understanding of the skills required for a particular role.

- Ensure that the referral fits the requirement.

Because referring someone whose skills are completely incompatible with the requirement only leads to wastage of time and effort on the part of recruiters and hiring managers.

- Paint the real picture.

Employees have a responsibility to represent the organization in the correct light to potential candidates.

- Be patient during the entire process.

Employees are expected to follow the required protocol while referring someone and not try and push or lobby for their referral to be hired. They should let the due process be followed and allow for the best candidate to be selected in the larger interest of the organization.

- Don't be afraid to refer.

Employee is in no way responsible if the referred candidate is not hired or is let-off due to poor performance or of any uncharacteristic behaviour after being employed. The company will take the whole responsibility for each candidate hired.
